FOREWORD

The People-to-People Committee for the Handicapped was founded in 1956 to foster and promote the overall People-to-People objectives of international friendship and understanding by working with and for the handicapped throughout the world. To carry out these objectives, the Committee encourages an international two-way exchange of rehabilitation information, publications, correspondence and personnel.

This directory will provide a means of facilitating this exchange by stimulating increased interest and participation in programs for the handicapped by voluntary organizations. It will also provide organizations and individuals with a handy if not necessarily complete reference to available sources of expert guidance, information and advice. The directory is an expansion of the last revised edition published in 1966. It includes those organizations and agencies, both private and federal, concerned with the techniques, training, treatment, devices, and procedures utilized in rehabilitating and employing the disabled.

The Committee is most grateful for the cooperation and information furnished by all agencies listed, for a portion of the total financial outlay provided by grant support from the Social and Rehabilitation Service of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and to those of our Committee whose personal funding and effort made this publication a reality.

ORGANIZATION AND PURPOSE

The Blinded Veterans Association is a national membership organization founded in 1945 to assist blinded veterans in their rehabilitation. The work of the Association is carried out by an Executive Committee of three and a larger volunteer staff. Since its inception, membership has steadily grown and includes veterans whose blindness has resulted from service during World Wars I and II, the Korean War and peacetime.

The BVA's principal purpose has been to assist the nation's blinded veterans to effectively cope with and overcome the severely handicapping effects of blindness, with the ultimate goal of obtaining satisfying gainful employment commensurate with individual capability.

PRINCIPAL PROGRAMS

Services of the BVA, whether provided on an individualized basis through field workers or selectively through its spokesman function, are freely provided to all blinded veterans regardless of their membership status. These services include:

Legislative programs to assure the maintenance of high quality, comprehensive rehabilitation services by the Veterans Administration.

Information programs to alert the veteran to available services.

Activating and Encouragement programs for encouraging the blinded veteran to desire and seek rehabilitation.

Explorative programs on the possibility of establishing and operating a national clearinghouse for information about training and job opportunities for blinded veterans.

Graphic Demonstrations, through the use of qualified blinded veterans as field workers, to encourage possibilities for positively dealing with handicaps imposed by blindness.

OFFICERS

John D. Twiname, Administrator

Dr. James F. Garrett, Assistant Administrator, Research and Demonstrations

Edward Newman, Commissioner, Rehabilitation Services Administration

ORGANIZATION AND PURPOSE

The Social and Rehabilitation Service administers programs of the U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare that deal with special groups: the handicapped, the aged, families, and children. Of the several divisions and offices of the Service, there are two that are concerned principally with the rehabilitation of the disabled, the Rehabilitation Services Administration and the Office of Research and Demonstrations. The objective of the SRS rehabilitation program is to advance the rehabilitation of handicapped persons so that they may engage in active lives and useful work.

The SRS functions under the direction of an Administrator. The Office of Research and Demonstrations is headed by an Assistant Administrator and the Rehabilitation Services Administration by a Commissioner. A Regional Commissioner supervises all programs and activities of the Service in each of nine regions throughout the country. The Regional Commissioners and their staffs work directly with state rehabilitation agencies, voluntary groups, universities, and other rehabilitation facilities and organizations.

PRINCIPAL PROGRAMS

Programs of the Rehabilitation Services Administration deal with the promotion and general overseeing of the setting of standards for the provision of rehabilitation and social services by state and local agencies. Such activities involve the provision of guidance to these agencies in the administration of the following Federal-State programs:

Handicapped

Disabled Social Security Applicants

Crippled Children

Mentally Retarded

Services for the Blind

Services for the Permanently and Totally Disabled

The Office of Research and Demonstrations administers a program under which grants are awarded to public and private non-profit agencies in partial support of research and demonstration projects which promise some unique contribution to the present knowledge of rehabilitation theory or practice.
